

WHAT IS THE NATIONAL SELECT CAMP?

The National Select Camps provide the top athletes aged 14-16 years old the opportunity to capitalize on their extraordinary achievements in the sport. Through an automated selection process, athletes are chosen based on their times and IMX scores to do something that very few get to do: train at the US Olympic and Paralympic Training Center. Through a series of pool sessions and classroom facilitations, you will experience what it means to be a part of Team USA. From Ryan Murphy to Katie Ledecky, various athletes representing our country on the world's largest stages have gone through this very same camp and used the knowledge, experiences, and life-long friendships to transform their approach to the sport of swimming.
